That the doctrine of secession was not held by any one at the time of the adoption the discussion that took place at the time. opponents was, that the power given to the Federal Government was dangerous to the necessary rights of the States. If the doctrine of secession had been held by either side the reply to such an objection was natural and easy. If any such power should be used by the Federal Government the remedy was plain and effectual. A State can resume the powers granted and leave the partnership, thus escaping any wrong that might be attempted. Indeed, no one could have urged an objection that admitted of so easy and conclusive a reply. The objection was urged, however, by the eloquence and power of Patrick Henry, the authors of it have an abiding faith in the and nobody made the obvious answer to it, from which it is plain that neither side held

It is, moreover, plain that the Southern of no practical weight. It was not a doctrine admitted by any department of our Government. If the South really believed this doctrine, and felt that it could be supported and maintained in this country, then all apprehensions were idle; for they had a remedy for aby wrong they apprehended. They knew it was not a doctrine held by the people, by the judiciary, the Executive or Congress. The attempt to exercise it, then, was practically revolution. If men felt they had a good reason for revolution they would engage in it. If they had a good reason to secede they would ngage in it without the argument. In point of fact, the South never expected or intended peaceable secession. They began with merces, with open acts of war. They did not seek peaceable secession. They used no means to that end. They knew that the doctrine was not admitted by this country, and would not be admitted; and, therefore, could not be acted ou. Indeed, if they had believed that the doctrine could be sustained and its admission secured by the country, they could have had no adequate reason to urge for rebellion at that time. The wrongs they professed to fear had not been done. They were only apprehended; and the man who had a firm faith in the doctrine o' secession could have replied to all such expressed apprehensions. The fact of secession proved that its authors did not believe that this doctrine of secession was or ever would be the doctrine of the country; and, therefore, they resorted, not to secession, but to rebellion.

Read over the acts of the sec the start, and it is plainly revolution, without any show of peaceable secession.

Whilst, therefore, the right of secession was not the theory of those who adopted the Constitution, it was not held as a practical doctrine of the Government in the South, and was not the cause of this rebellion.

Josiah Quincy once said: "If this act passes, it will be the right of all the States and the home. duty of some to prepare for immediate secession," Here was the right of secession claimed because Jesiah Quincy was angry with the Government, and wanted to secede; not that he really believed in the right of a State to secede. It is just so with the rebels now They were angry at the Government, and wanted to secede, and claimed the right to do what they intended to do, whether they had a right to do it or not. In the absence of real oppression, it is ambition and ill blood that make rebellions, not any abstract doctrines.

Among the causes urged for the reelection of Mr. Lincoln, and in the end one of the excuses for continuing him in office on any terms, is that, if the Southern States should fail, as they doubtless will, to be so far restored to the Union as to take part in the election, as a consequence no one of two or more candidates will probably receive the required majority of the whole electoral college. We do not see the weight of the objection. If the electoral college fails, then the choice develves upon Congress, which body would scarcely fail to choose the President. Of course this objection could only emanate from Ben. F. Butler, and it foreshadows a determination of some now in power to continue Mr. Lincoln's term four more years at all hezards-legally if possible, illegally if nec-

What if, through battle and suffrage, the President who was elected in 1860 should, by President who was elected in 1800 should, by his opponents, be kept out of the Presidency of the United States until another election? What if they should then succeed in electing a President in 1864 against the majority who elected Abraham Lincoln in 1869? Can that majority be expected to acquiesce without rioting and without bloodshed to the election of Jefferson Davis or John C. Breckinridge, or Horatio Seymour? Certainly not; and then you have perpetual civil war, which is nothing else than perpetual anarchy. Let us not be deceived. Abraham Lincoln must be President of South Carolina and Georgia by virtue of his election of 1860, or not only the peace of the Union but the Union itself is forever lost.

What does that mean in plain language but of the greatest food-producing region in the world—with the raw material or almost every declaration of rebellion in case Gov. Does it not say that, if he is fairly, constitt- veying products to distant customers-with tionally elected, he will be resisted by arms by the party now in power? This was an advantage, nor was it any expired. Therefore, if some other person, as Gov. It is amusing to see Forney and felows of his morality and conscience trying to startle the country, not only with the washerwoman's plot, out with that other mare's nest, in which Vallandigham, James B. The New York Post has a letter from one Mr. J. Evans, who seems to be concerned in the Second Auditor's office, in response to some strictures in that paper upon the vexatious delay soldiers, and the relations of deceased soldiers, have in obtaining their money. It was indirectly alleged by the Post that some of these delays were intentional, for the purpose of allowing speculators in the offices to purchase the claim at a discount. Similar complaints are made in other places. It is asserted, that in very many offices for the settlement of soldiers' and other claims, a vexa- five hundred thousand pounds. tious delay is interposed to weary out the claimant, so that he will sell out, either to some of the clerks or their strikers, at a dis count. If it was treasonable in Southern politicians to say that the election of a Northern sectional President would be resisted by the South, what is it to say the election of Seymour to the Presidency would be met by "riot and bloodshed?"

Capture of Arkadelphia.

The particulars of the capture of Arkadelphia by Gen. Steele's forces, which were telegraphed a week ago, are thus given in the Little Rock Democrat:

We have important news from the expedition sent by Major-General Steele ten days ago in pursuit of Marmaduke. Gen. Rice advanced by way of Benton and Rockport, with two infantry brigades, and Lieut. Col. Caldwell with cavalry. We have not the particulars of the distribution of the troops or their route, but the cavalry forces pursued Marmaduke to Arkadelphia—the home of the secesh Gov. Col. Clayton, commander of that Post, has been very sick, but is now convalescent. The Pine Bluff affair is thus noticed in the Democrat:

Marmaduke is reported to have gained a great victory at Pine Bluff, and to have cap-tured four hundred horses. The truth is, Clayton gave Marmaduke a terrible thrashing; killed and wounded 130 men, and drove him with three times Clayton's number in haste away. Clayton's loss was 11 killed and 23 wounded. Sixty Government mules were cut wounded. Sixty Gov. rnment mules were cut loose by order of Col. Clayton to keep them from being burned up, and some of them may be seceded and gone to Marmaduke. The only loss of property was the burning of a part of the town by Marmaduke, and the property mostly belonged to Secessionists. This is Marmaduke's way of defending his cited.

Late Operations in Virginia. [From the Richmond Examiner, 9th.]

Official information was received by the War Department, yesterday, that two brigades of Lee's army were, on Saturday, captured by a sudden and unexpected advance of Meade. The dispatch bringing this intelligence gives none of the particulars of this disaster; but it was believed in official circles that our loss would fall little short of five thousand men. Letcher and others, however, who ar rived here last night, direct from the army, give not so sad an account of the affair. Their report is that on Saturday, about noon, Hoke's report is that on Saturday, about noon, Hoke's and Hays' brigades, bring on picket, were attacked by about twenty-five thousand of the enemy, and after one of the most desperate fights on record, part of which was hand-to-hand, our men were surrounded, and all of them, except some six hundred of Hiys' brigade, killed or taken prisoners.

The number of our men taken prisoners is variously stated at from fifteen hundred to three thousand; the latter figure is probably nearest the truth. We also lost four pieces of a tillery.

The fight is reported to have occurred at or near Kelly's Ford, on the Rappahaunock. Hays' brigade is composed of Louisianians and Hoke's of North Carolinians.

[From the Richmond Enquirer, 9th.] Sunday, at all times fertile in rumors, was particularly so on yesterday. But we fear that the rumors of yesterday are too true, and, unfortunately, too disgracefully true. It was reported that General Echols had been disastrously defeated near Lewisburg, Virdisastrously defeated near Lewisburg, virginia; but more than defeat—a shameful, unmitigated disgrace was permitted to befall our arms in the boasted army of Northern Virginia. Two whole brigades of the army of Northern Virginia were captured on Saturday. We learned this not as a rumor, but as a fact, from such a source that we cannot guestion. from such a source that we cannot question its accuracy. We could not learn whose brigades they were—not even whether they were cavalry or infantry. But it matters not who the Brigadiers are, nor whether their commands are infantry or cavalry—the honor of the army, the interest of the cause, the safety of the country, all unite to demand their dismissal from the army upon which their dismissal from the army upon which their negligence has brought such irreparable

THE LATE AFFAIR ON THE RAPPAHANNOCK. [From the Enquirer, 10th.1

About 150 of our men, who were wounded in the battle at Kelly's Ford, on Saturday, reached this city on yesterday morning. From their reports, and information derived from other sources, we make up some account of the office.

Hoke's and Hays' brigades, of Early's divison, with two batteries of artillery, were on blocket north of the Rappahannock, at Kelly's Ford. The two brigades numbered only about two thousand. About twelve o'clock the enemy made a sudden and unexpected attack in such force that their skirmishers alone seemed to outnumber our whole force, and so quietly had they approached that they seemed to our men to have risen out of the ground. They were evidently well informed of our force and position, and had come down to surround and capture us. With this intent, their first effort was to cut us off from the

As they were forcing their way towards the river, the enemy closed around them, and a hand-to-hand fight ensued, in which numbers on both sides were killed. The Richmond Examiner, of November 9, predicts the retreat of Bragg's army. It says: The country may as well prepare itself for another retreat in the West. The indications of the annual migration of birds are scarcely more unerring than are the auguries which oretell the disappointment of the high ϵx ectations formed of the results to be attained n that quarter. After a continuance of favora-ole prognostics, to which additional strength was given by the confident tone of the President since his recent tour of inspection; after reiterated assurances of the straits to which the enemy was reduced; of the precarious tenure of his communications: the difficulties of subsistence by which he was pressed, and the impossibility of his long continuance in his present position, we now note a certain and somewhat indefinable change of tone, which, to a people rendered doubly acute by long habit and deep interest, serves to mark the fall of the barometer and give warning to the coming storm. Consistent accounts reach us, not only of mistakes in execution, but of disagreement and discord in the councils of the Western army. It is certain that with such a state of thirgs full efficiency cannot be expected from an army. The Chief should be made to suit the Lieutenants, or the Lieutenants made to suit the Chief. Military movements are again in great activity. In Northera Virginia Meade has already signalized his advance with wonderful energy, and has indicted a blow upon the army of General Lec. In Western Virginia the disaster to General Echols' command shows the enemy active, bold, and enterprising. WASHINGTON, Nov. 17. The Republican of this evening declare at it is expected that Generals Meade and that it is expected that Generals Meade and Lee will have a battle ere the end of the present week, and the impression is confirmed somewhat, as we learn, directly from the front to-day. It is understood that General Meade's left only is advanced to the Rapidan, but he is to cross before the close of the week and obtain a battle if possible.

The army is in excellent, condition, and estimated the finding of a general engage.

The promptitude of the Government in paying soldiers has a most sautary influence. A Richmond paper contains the following: Mobile, Nov. 12—To General S. Cooper: The following dispatch, from Tennessee, Miss., was received yesterday, bearing date of the 10 h inst., from Colonel Harry Maury, commanding the Fifteenth cavalry regimen:

We dashed in yesterday above Bayou Sara on a plundering party of Yankees three bundred strong, and drove them to their ironclads with great slaughter. We brought off lads with great slaughter. We brought of their wagon trains and twenty-five prisoners from under the broadsides of the gunboats. Only three men were wounded of ours.

PITTSBURG, Nov. 17, P. M. The river is now nearly at a stand, with eight feet four inches by the pier mark. The weather is cloudy and damp. The river has not been sufficient to let the "Broad Horns" out, but about fifty barges will go by this rise immediately, taking out 450 000 bushels of coal. Our wharves are quite lively with steam ers preparing for departure. The Dick Fulto leaves to-night, with the steamer International, Captains Abel and Campbell, for Louisville, to be finished there. NEW YORK, November 18.

A Folly Island letter of the 14th, to the Tribune, says matters remain pretty much in the same stage as they were at last advices. The bombardment of Sumter still continued at intervals. Our batteries have been occupied principally in returning the fire of Moultrie and the works on Sullivan's Island. Boston, Nov. 17.

The Legislature has passed the bounty bill, It is stated that the two batteries with the brigades were the second and third companies of Richmond Howitzers. But this is doubtful. Our whole loss in this unfortunate affair, in billed wanneds and missing could not have substitute bountiage. PITTSBURG, Nov. 18.

The river is now falling with 7 feet 10 in-naches water by the pier mark. The weather is clearing up. The following towboats have gone on': For Cincinnati—Whale, seven barges; Bengal Tiger, seven; Leader, six; Tigress. seven; Coal Hill, seven; Vigilant, five; Like Erie, seven; Coal Buff, seven; Vigilant, five; Like Erie, seven; Orleans presenting themselves at the polls, on Monday nex; and by their votes giving five. CAIRO, November 18. The Memphis papers of the 15th brings no news, but private information says appearances indicate another fight on the Memphis and Cherleston railroad soon by Forrest and

eral order:
"People in the district of West Tennessee and the northern counties of Mississippi having shown no disposition or made no atempt to protect themselves from maranders nd guerrilla bands, but having submitted nselves, without organized resistance, to dominion of these petty tyrauts, and compined in many instances to procure from corrupt traders in the city of Memphis and else-where supplies for the use of the public enemy, proved themselves unworthy the indu'gence shown them by the government, it is therefore ordered that the lines of pickets around the several military posts in this command be closed; that no goods of any description be allowed to pass out, nor anything be brought in, except fire-wood and provisions, by any citizen without a written order from some general officer. All merchants and others doing busines will be held responsible or a knowledge of the residence of parties to whom they sell, and the sale of merchandise as beyond the lines of pickets will be ounished with the severest rigor known to he laws of war.

"All persons residing under the protection of the United States, physically capable of the United States, physically capable of the falls had receded fully on the martial law, and especially in the city of Memphis, where it is known ant. many have fled to escape liability to military

"This will be strictly applied in pursuance orders to this effect from Major General Sherman, commanding the department: All officers commanding districts, divisions and detached brigades of this corps will immediately ately proceed to impress into the service of the United States such able-bodied person as may be required to fill up the regiments and batteries to their maximum.

"Persons so levied upon, if they enlist for here years or the war, will be entitled to the full benefits provided by the acts of Congress; and benefits provided by the acts of Congress; no doubt cause a further rise. if not, they will receive clothing and rations, no further necessity for their enforced services they will be discharged." Washington, November 18.

The immense number of non-producing claves in the South are fast becoming an incubus which the emancipation proclamation was not needed to canish in good time. Over a million slaves removed from the border States, now lost to the Confederacy, are now huddled into Georgia alone, to consume the subsistence which might otherwise sustain Bragg's army during the winter. It is the pinion of many not only there, but at the South, that the army being now deprived of all supplies from Texas, Tennessee and Kentucky, will soon have no alternative but to surrender to the necessities of hunger, unless General Grant, who, it now seems probable, forces it to a new activity. To give way under such a pressure would probably not be considered by the chivalry dishonorable. It would at any rate be deemed a kind of xcuse for doing that to which the sword lone has not compelled them, It appears from official reports from Gen. arlion, commanding the Department of New Mexico, that California and New Mexican volunteers are scouring the territory and penetrating to the haunts of the Navejo Indians, and destroying villages and crops, ma-king captures of persons and stocks. Owing to scant supplies of grass and wafer further perations are to be made in detached parties The Navajo Indians have been more severepunished during the summer than ever fore. They have been closely hunted in almost every direction by our troops. NEW YORK, November 18. The Post's Washington correspondent says there was some dispute here over an amusing question, and it is this:

Does General Meade desire to advance upon the enemy?"

It is claimed by some of his friends that he does desire to push on at once, but that Gen. Halleck is opposed to it. On the other hand it is said that both Gen. Halleck and Gen. Meade are agreed that no further advance shall be made this winter, but that the President insists upon more fighting efore the winter compels the army to close its operations until next spring. It is assigned, as a regular condition of things, that at least four different men have the reputation of being opposed to the further prosecution of

I feel very certain of two things, that Gen. Halleck is not eager for another battle on the southern side of the Rappahannock, and that Ger. Meadels. The General was urged to go to Gettysburg and he refused peremptorily, and has gone back to fight. If the enemy afford him any thing like a fair feld, and will stand up for battle, he will try the hazard. Gen. Meade is a prudent General—too cautious a simes, but even he is convinced that it is in his power to beat the army under Gen. Lee.

tober, by a part of the Twenty-fifth North Carolina regiment, under command of Lieut. Col. Samuel C Bryson, who was badly whipped and forced to best a hasty retreat to Ashville. The rebels lost 6 killed and 30 wounded. Among the killed was Lieut. Hyatt.

After the fight the Unionists advanced and took Ashville, as a feint, and came near taking Gen Vance, a son of the Governor, and his staff, prisoners. After this the patriot band fell back to the mountains, and a letter from Governor Vance, dated Madison county, N. C., Nov. 33, says the enemy have withdrawn from Western North Carolina to East Tennessee. They carried off several prominent cluizens in chains. Between Market and Jefferson.

It is said that Dr. Leech, Messrs. Turnee, Gaither, Christian and Davidson, all Union men of the Holden school, are elected to the Rebel Corgress from North Carolina. The three first are certainly chosen.

A person was reasoning with an ine-brate, recently, on the vile habit he had of drinking spirits. "Why," replied the toper, "water is dangerous—it drowns people; gets in their chests, and into their heads, and then, too, it makes that infernal steam that's always blowing a feller up." blowing a feller up."

PITTSBURG, PA., May 1, 1855. DR. J. C. AYER—Sir: I have been repeated you add of the worst headache any body can have by a dose or two of your Pils. It seems to arise from a foul stomach, which they cleanse at once.

Yours with great respect, ED, W. PREBLE, Clerk of Steamer Clarion.

Bilious Disorders-Liver Complaints. From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City. From Dr. Theodore Bett, of New York City.

Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperidot, but I find their beneficial effects aron the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of billous complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago. Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I not them in esteem as one of the best ape ients I have ver found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes hem an excellent remedy, when given in snall does or bitious dysentery and diarrhee. Their sugarouting makes them very acceptable and convenient or the use of women and chiedran. Dyspepsia, Impurity of the Blood. m the Rev. J. V. Himes, Pastor of Advent Church, Boston.

THIS IS TO CERTIFY THAT WE HATE HAD ONE OF J. B. GRIDLEY'S PORTABLE HAY PRESSES IN 2 use for the last eight months, on which we have baled about 400 tons of hay It makes a bale 2 feet by 2 feet 2 inches and 4 fe-tiong. The average weight of the bales is 370 pounds, being about the same as the Beeter Press makes, and of the same size. Three men and on horse will average about 40 bales per day. We have another Press of the same size, and will average about 425 pounds. Three men and one horse will make from 25 to 30 bales per day. We have also as good a Beeter Press as we ever saw on which we have baled some 250 tons of hay; and we would say to everybody, that considering all things, we would prefer the Gridley Press to the B-etec Press or any oth r Press that we have ever seen or heard of. The Gridley Press is very durable, and can be easily worked with one horse, and will not could repair.

J. P. FRANK, New Albany, Ind., New Albany, Ind., GEORGE HEPPERT, Bloomington, Ind.

The great number of these Presses that have been sold in the West and Northwest, and the universal satisfaction they have given, has given it the lead over all other presses of its kind. To make sure of a Press order early

ARE YOU SICK, FEE

From a Forwarding Merchant of St. Louis, rec. 1, lean-Dr. Aver: Your Pil's are the paragon of all that is reat in medicine. They have cured my little daughter of ulcerous sores upon her hands and feet that had proved incurable for years. Her mother has been long grievously afflicted with blotches and pimples on her kin and in her hair. After our child was cured, she also tried your Pills, and they have cured her ASA MORGRIDGE.

Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent unlitles surpass any cathartic we posses. They are alld, but very certain and effectual in their action on he bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the ally tradment of disease.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR, Washington, D. C., 7th February, 1856. Washinston, D. C., 7th February, 1896.

Sir: I have used your Pills in my general and hospital practice ever since you made them, and cannot hesitate to say they are the best cathertie we employ. Their regulat ne action on the liver is quick and decided, consequently they are an admirable remedy for derangements of that organ. Indeed, I have seldom found a case of bilious diseases o obstinate that it did not readily yield to them. Frate nally your.
